

Ikebana Class

Fall 2022

Saturdays, November 5 & November 19,
2022 2:00 PM - 4:00 PM PT

Tuition: $40.00/class (includes flowers)

Instructor: Tomoko Tsuji

This class will be held in-person at the Oakland Asian Cultural Center. Proof of vaccination against COVID-19 is required. Masks must be worn at all times. Capacity is limited; please contact Tomoko to sign up for a class at tomoko351@gmail.com or 510-654-6908.

Ikebana, the Japanese art of flower arrangement, dates back over 550 years and is still practiced in modern-day Japan. Ikebana pays attention to the overall line and form of all plant material used and emphasizes minimalism and asymmetry. No previous knowledge of Ikebana is required.

Students must bring their own:

- 1) Container - a wide (9-16") and shallow (3-4") dish or bowl, preferably with a flat bottom (suiban)
- 2) Garden scissors or pruning shears (hasami)
- 3) Flower frog (kenzan 2 3/4" or bigger) - available to borrow or purchase in class for ~$30
- 4) Small bucket to take flowers home (optional)

Oakland Asian Cultural Center is generously funded by CA Department of Social Justices, California Humanities, City of Oakland Cultural Affairs, City of Oakland Parks & Rec, Deeply Rooted Collaborative, DocuSign, East Bay Community Foundation, The Fleishhacker Foundation, National Endowment for the Arts, William & Flora Hewlett Foundation, Zellerbach Family Foundation, and individual donors.
